Eddie Brock was an investigative journalist. When he started investigating 'The Life Foundation' and its CEO Carlton Drake, a dangerous scientist, Eddie Brock lost his job, and his fiancée broke up with him. Recently, Brock could get more information about the dangerous, secret, and illegal experiments that Drake likes to conduct.

In the labs of The Life Foundation, Drake exploits humans and infects them with an alien parasite. Drake wants to redesign life on earth. He thinks he can give people the power to live in space, but a lot of humans die in his labs. So, Brock decides to break into one of those secret sites to end Drake's crazy plans. But when Brock tries to liberate one of the victims he gets infected as well. And now he can't control his body because the alien parasite makes him do things differently.

The parasite says his name is Venom. He can materialize and help when Brock is chased by his enemies from The Life Foundation. Very often, Venom makes Brock jump off high buildings, ride a motorbike through fire to escape drones, or jump into a cold river and swim away from police guns. Venom can also make Brock's body heal faster. If Brock breaks his leg or gets shot during a chase, Venom immediately helps his body recuperate, and makes him go back to normal very quickly.

Finally, after many risky incidents, Brock realizes that he can never get away from Venom. So, he decides to make his peace with the parasite. And for his part, Venom accepts to co-exist with Brock, never hurt innocent people, only punish criminals, and of course, help defeat Drake and his evil organization.
