III. WRITING (10 POINTS)

Write a reply to the following email that you've received from your English friend.

Dear friend,

How are you doing? I hope you are fine. I just want to tell you that I'm having some problems with my parents; they don't let me go out at night, or invite my friends. They're always complaining about my hairstyle, the way I dress or the kind of music I listen to. They're making my life terrible! What about you? Do you have any problems with your parents? How do they treat you? Tell me about your relationship with them.

Dear Laura,.....
In your last email, you told me that you have troubles with your parents. In my opinion, it's due to the misunderstanding between you. You have to talk with them. I'm pretty sure that they just want you to be a better person. Well, for me, I can say that God blessed me with the most adorable parents a person can ever have. I don't deny that they don't let me go out at night, but I know that it's for my benefit. In addition, they don't complain about my style and the kind of music I listen to. Because they were young people too and they know that it's just a fever. That is to say that tastes change. Once we grow up, we see things differently. What's more, I like having conversations with my parents about their point of view on everything I do. For instance, recently, I had an argue with my best friend. I was depressed. Well, when I talked with my parents about it, I have felt like a jerk. I've noticed that nothing in the world is worth crying for. Trust me Laura, you are going to do the same as your parents with your kids once you become a mother. So don't judge them as your enemies but try to figure out about reasons and find a solution to communicate with them.....
